Further, VL Capital does not have the discretionary authority to negotiate commissions on behalf of our clients on a trade-by-trade basis. VL Capital may recommend a custodian based on criteria such as, but not limited to, reasonableness of commissions charged to the client, services made available to the client, and procedures for order entry. VL Capital does not receive research services, other products, or compensation as a result of recommending a particular broker that may result in the client paying higher commissions than those obtainable through other brokers. VL Capital recommends to clients that they established their brokerage account[s] at Interactive Brokers.

In selecting the custodian, VL Capital will not be obligated to select competitive bids on securities transactions and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available transaction costs. These costs are determined by the designated custodian.
- B. The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the broker. VL Capital will execute its transactions through an unaffiliated broker-dealer selected by the client. VL Capital may aggregate orders in a block trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the same broker-dealer for multiple (discretionary) accounts. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage particular client accounts.

Item 13. Review of Accounts.
